INDEX OF VOLUME XXXVII (1976)

(Names of contributors appear in SMALL CAPITALS)

Aesthetics, v. Tatarkiewicz

American thought, Adam Smith, and economics, 59–78; enlightenment in, 589–602; v. Jefferson

Anarchism, and French Catholicism in Esprit, 163–74

Ancient, Aristotle, 319–22; Socrates and Xenophon, 307–18

ANDERSON, LORIN, Bonnet's Taxonomy, 45–58

Aristotle, and the Ancients, 319–22

Astrology, Hudibras, and the Puritans, 521–36

Bacon, Francis, on empiricism, 689–96

BAKUNIN, JACK S., Leroux on democracy, socialism, and enlightenment, 455–74

BEARDSLEY, MONROE C., review of Tatarkiewicz' History of Aesthetics, 549–55

Berkeley, George, Christian neo-Platonism of, 537–46; Three Dialogues, 343–49

BIDDLE, JOHN C., Locke on reasonable Christianity, 411–22

Birth control, 19th-century French opposition to, 475–92

BOCK, KENNETH E., moral philosophy of Henry Maine, 147–54

BOWLER, PETER J., Malthus, Darwin, and concept of struggle, 631–50

Boyle, Robert, on science, 689–96

British thought, chivalric terminology, 323–34; millenarianism and English latitudinarians, 335–41; providence, capitalism, and environmental degradation, 27–44; v. Bacon, Berkeley, Boyle, Butler, Darwin, Hartley, Hooker, Locke, Maine, Malthus, Mandeville, Mill, Monboddo, Newton, Shakespeare, Adam Smith, Yates

BRUSH, STEPHEN G., irreversibility and indeterminism: Fourier to Heisenberg, 603–30

Buber, Martin, and Hans Kohn, 651–72

Butler, Samuel, Hudibras, 521–36

Capitalism, providence, and environmental degradation, 27–44

Chivalric terminology, in late Middle Ages, 323–34

Christianity, American Calvinism during enlightenment, 589–602; astrology, Hudibras, and the Puritans, 521–44; Catholicism and anarchism in Esprit, 163–74; Christianization of the Incas, 507–20; Erasmus on antithesis of body and soul, 673–88; Marxist ecclesiology and biblical criticism, 93–110; John Yates, Puritan preacher and Ramist philosopher, 697–706; v. Locke

COHEN, I. BERNARD, 18th-century origins of concept of scientific revolution, 257–88

COLEMAN, WILLIAM, providence, capitalism, and environmental degradation, 27–44

Comte, Auguste, positivism in Chile and, 492–506

Cook, R. I., Bernard Mandeville, reviewed by Malcolm Jack, 369–78

Corruption and progress in 18th-century, 369–78

Darwin, Malthus, and concept of struggle, 631–50

Derham, William, and 18th-century ecology, 27–44

ECCLESHALL, ROBERT, Hooker's synthesis and problem of allegiance, 111–24

Economics, Adam Smith on

American, 59–78; ecology and, 27–44
Eighteenth century, concept of scientific revolution, 275–88; disease in Calvinist colonial America, 589–602; Incas in colonial Peru, 507–20; irresistible compassion and humanitarianism, 195–218; v. Berkeley, Bonnet, Derham, Hartley, Hume, Jefferson, Mandeville, Monboddo, Adam Smith, Vico
Empiricism, Bacon's, 689–96
Enlightenment, American, 589–602; "Histoire Raisonnée" 1660–1720, 219–40; Leroux on democracy, socialism, and, 455–74
Erasmus, on body and soul, 673–88
Esprit, anarchism and Catholicism in, 163–74
FIERING, NORMAN S., irresistible compassion: 18th-century sympathy and humanitarianism, 195–218
Fourier, Charles, irreversibility and indeterminism, 603–30
French thought, anarchism and Catholicism in Esprit, 163–74; "Histoire Raisonnée" 1660–1720, 219–40; sex and socialism in 19th-century, 475–92; v. Bonnet, Tocqueville, Vico
Galileo, theory of indivisibles, 571–88
GEERKEN, JOHN H., Machiavelli studies since 1969, 351–68
German thought, v. Buber, Heisenberg, Kohn, Marx
Hartley, David, and association of ideas, 441–54
Heisenberg, irreversibility and indeterminism, 603–30
Hooker's synthesis and problem of allegiance, 111–24
HORSMAN, REGINALD, racial Anglo-Saxonism before 1850, 387–410
Hume, passage incorrectly attributed to Jefferson, 133–35, on property, commerce, and empire, 79–92
HUTTON, PATRICK H., Vico and French revolution, 257–88
Incas, Christianization of, 507–20
Indeterminism, Fourier to Heisenberg, 603–30
Italian thought, Bacon's empiricism, Boyle's science, and Jesuit response, 689–96; v. Galileo, Machiavelli, Vico
JACK, MALCOLM, progress and corruption in 18th-century: Mandeville's "Private Vices, Public Benefits," 369–76
JACOB, MARGARET C., millenarianism and science in late 17th century, 335–41
Jefferson, Thomas, on a passage by Hume, 133–35
KLAIBER, JEFFREY L., Christianization of the Incas, 507–20
Kohn, Hans, liberal nationalism of, 651–72
KOVESI, JULIUS, Marxist ecclesiology and biblical criticism, 93–110
Lamennais, influence on Latin American political thought, 137–40
LAND, STEPHEN K., Monboddo and theory of syntax, 423–40
Language, Locke's theory of, 707–14; v. Monboddo
Lastarria, José Victorino, and positivism in Chile, 493–506
Latin American thought, Christianization of the Incas in colonial Peru, 507–20; influence of Lamennais and Montalvo on political thought 137–46; positivism and history in 19th-century Chile, 493–506
LEFFLER, PHYLLIS K., "Histoire Raisonnée" 1660–1720, 219–40
Leroux, Pierre, on democracy, socialism, and enlightenment, 455–74
Letelier, Valentín, and positivism in Chile, 493–506
Literary criticism, Shakespeare's Henry V, 3–26
Locke, John, analysis of language and Scripture, 707–14; on Christianity, 411–22
Machiavelli, studies since 1969, 351–68

Maine, Henry, moral philosophy of, 147–54
Malthus, Darwin, and concept of struggle, 631–50
Mandeville, studies, 369–76
Manuel, Frank, The Religion of Isaac Newton, reviewed by R. S. Westfall, 175–84
MARSH, DAVID, Erasmus on antithesis of body and soul, 673–88
Marxist ecclesiology and biblical criticism, 93–110
MCLACHLAN, HUGH V., Thomas, Znaniecki, and Popper on falsification, 547–48
MCLAREN, ANGUS, sex and socialism in 19th-century France, 475–92
Medieval, chivalric terminology, 323–34
Michelet, Jules, and Vico, 241–56
Mill, John Stuart, notion of social responsibility, 155–62
Millenarianism, and 17th-century English latitudinarians, 335–41
MILLER, B. JAYE, anarchism and French Catholicism in Esprit, 163–74
Monboddo, and theory of syntax, 423–40
Monro, H., The Ambivalence of Bernard Mandeville, reviewed by Malcolm Jack, 369–76
Montalvo, Lamennais, and influence on Latin American political thought, 137–46
MOORE, J. T., Locke's analysis of language and Scripture, 707–14
Mounier, Emmanuel, and Esprit, 163–74
NELSON, NICHOLAS H., astrology, Hudibras, and the Puritans, 521–36
Neo-Platonism, of Berkeley, 537–46
Newton, recent studies on, 175–84
Nineteenth century, birth control in France, 475–92; racism in England, 357–410; revolutionary spirit, 455–74; v. Comte, Darwin, Lamennais, Lastarria, Leroux, Letelier, Maine, Malthus, Mill, Montalvo, Tocqueville
OBERG, BARBARA BOWEN, Hartley and association of ideas, 441–54
Popper, Karl, on falsification, 547–48
Positivism, and history in 19th-century Chile, 493–506
Puritans, and astrology, 521–36; John Yates of Norfolk, 697–706; v. Shute
Racism, in England, 357–410
Ramus, Peter, and John Yates of Norfolk, 697–706
RENALDO, JOHN J., Bacon's empiricism, Boyle's science, and Jesuit response in Italy, 689–96
SACHS, MENDEL, Maimonides, Spinoza, and field concept in physics, 125–32
Saint-Simonians, and Leroux, 455–63; on birth control, 475–92
Science, Bacon's empiricism, Boyle's science, and Jesuit response in Italy, 689–96; Galileo's theory of indivisibles, 671–88; irreversibility and indeterminism, 603–30; Maimonides, Spinoza, and field concept in physics, 111–24; microscopic world of Berkeley's Three Dialogues, 343–49; millenarianism, 335–41; Popper on falsification, 547–48
Seventeenth century, "Histoire raisonnée," 219–40; millenarianism and science, 335–41; v. Bacon, Boyle, Butler, Galileo, Locke, Newton, Spinoza, Yates
Shakespeare, Henry V, 3–26
SHUTE, MICHAEL N., episode in American enlightenment, 589–602
SILVER, BRUCE, conflicting microscopic worlds of Berkeley's Three Dialogues, 343–49
SKINNER, ANDREW S., Adam Smith and American economic community, 59–78
SMITH, A. MARK, Galileo's theory of indivisibles, 571–88
Smith, Adam, and American economic community, 59–78, v. White, D. A.

SMITH, GORDON ROSS, Shakespeare's Henry V, 3–26
Socialism, and sex in 19th-century France, 475–92
Socratic method in Xenophon, 307–18
Sorel, Georges, and Vico, 241–56
SPINDLER, FRANK MACDONALD, Lamennais and Montalvo: European influence upon Latin American political thought, 137–46
Spinoza, Maimonides, and field concept in physics, 125–32
SPRUNGER, KEITH L., John Yates of Norfolk: radical Puritan preacher as Ramist philosopher, 697–706
STROUD, MICHAEL, chivalric terminology in late medieval literature, 323–34
STRUHL, PAULA ROTHENBERG, Mill's notion of social responsibility, 155–62
Tatarkiewicz, History of Aesthetics, reviewed by M. C. Beardsley, 549–55
Thomas, W. I., Znaniecki, and Popper on falsification, 547–48
THURSTON, G. J., Alexis de Tocqueville in Russia, 289–306
Tocqueville, Alexis de, in Russia, 289–306
TODD, ROBERT B., Aristotle's exposition of the four causes and the ancients, 319–22
Toland, John, and John Locke, 411–22
Twentieth century, v. Buber, Kohn, Popper, Tatarkiewicz
VENNING, COREY, Hume on property, commerce, and empire in the good society, 79–92
Vico, and French Revolution, 241–56
Wealth of Nations, Adam Smith's, v. White, D. A.
WELLMAN, ROBERT R., Socratic method in Xenophon, 307–18
WENZ, PETER S., Berkeley's Christian neo-Platonism, 537–46
WESTFALL, RICHARD S., changing world of Newtonian industry, 175–84
Whiteside, D. T., ed., The Mathematical papers of Isaac Newton, reviewed by R. S. Westfall, 175–84
WHITE, DONALD A., review of Adam Smith's Wealth of Nations, 715 ff.
WHITE, LUCIA, on a passage by Hume incorrectly attributed to Jefferson, 133–35
WOLF, KEN, Hans Kohn's liberal nationalism, 651–72
WOLL, ALLEN L., positivism and history in 19th-century Chile, 493–506
Xenophon, Socratic method in, 307–18
Yates, John, radical Puritan preacher as Ramist philosopher, 697–706
Zionism, Hans Kohn and, 651–72
Znaniecki, F., Thomas, and Popper on falsification, 547–48

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We wish to acknowledge with thanks the generous editorial collaboration of the following scholars during 1976: Hans Aarsleff, Ismail R. Al Faruqi, Henri Amar, Huntington Cairns, Jonathan Goldberg, Kazimierz Grzybowski, Sidney Hook, Ernest C. Mossner, Milton C. Nahm, Derek Parfit, Karl Popper, Gary Thrane, Judith Tormey, Charles Trinkhaus, Gerald Vision, Brian H. G. Wormald, John W. Yolton.